NAME: Bingyi (Avril) Zhu
Program: Applied Arts -- Interior Design

Hi my dear friends,

I'm a current Vancouver Island University student that is enrolled in Interior Design Program. My name is Bingyi Zhu and you can call me by Avril. Although this is my second year in Academic, I just finished my first semester in Interior Design, because I was taking business, psychology etc. What I want to tell you is that making the right decision for what you really want to do is very important; therefore, sharing your thoughts and feelings with your advisors is valuable. I definitely had a very fun semester; because I am sure I found what I really wanted to do. If you think that you are a creative person and passionate about design, please check Interior Design program out. Meanwhile, the good news is that Interior Design in Vancouver Island University has just been approved to become a four-year degree program, which means that there will be more things for you to learn and more opportunities for you to have fun.

This is already my third-year in Nanaimo. I think I was a boring person, because I was shy to make friends, I was scared to speak with native students. Actually, there are lots amazing things to do after you really open up your heart and get out there. There are always some on-going events on campus with amazing prizes, there are movie night for you if you love movies, there are day trips if you love traveling and there is our school pub if you like social. Of course, all the fun things are not limited on campus, so give me a message if you want to do something interesting off campus.
