Art, Design and Performing Arts Programs

Bachelor of Interior Design

Location Offered:

Nanaimo

Credential:

Bachelor Degree

Program Length:

4 Years

The Program

The Bachelor of Interior Design combines theory with specialized knowledge and the development of proficiencies relative to the profession of interior design. It is intended for students who wish to pursue a professional career in this creative multi-faceted discipline. Interior designers work in all areas of the built environment including residential, office, retail, hospitality, and Institutional settings to create interior spaces that are "functional, enhance the quality of life and culture of the occupants, and are aesthetically attractive"*. The program provides a balanced range of theoretical, intellectual, communication, experiential, applied and other skills, needed to deal effectively with the responsibilities of interior design professional life. The interior design curriculum features lecture, studio, critique, and computer lab instruction; independent and collaborative projects; formal and informal presentations; field trips; an internship and a final major project spanning two semesters. The foundation courses and elective study provide an excellent foundation and structure for lifelong learning and ensures that students develop quantitative reasoning and critical thinking skills.

Program Outline

The Bachelor of Interior Design is a full-time program comprised of nine semesters organized as follows:

The first three years of study (six semesters) begin with a Fall semester (September through December) followed by Spring semester (January to April). The seventh semester is an internship term, scheduled in the summer between third and fourth year. The final two semesters revert to the standard Fall/Spring format.

In addition to the 106 specialized credits in Interior Design and 6 required credits in English, students must complete 18 elective credits of which at least 6 are upper-level. Students must obtain a minimum "C" grade in each course in order to graduate from the program. If a "C" is not obtained, students may continue with the program, with the approval of the program Chair.

Notes on Admission

- Due to the nature of the contemporary work place, students should be familiar with fundamental computer skills such as word processing before considering an education in Interior Design, to ensure they can complete course work.

- Enrolment in this program is limited. Students who meet or exceed the minimum admission requirements may not necessarily be admitted to the program.

Admission with Advanced Standing

Admission to the Bachelor of Interior Design at the second and third year levels may be possible based on available seats and will be determined on the basis of credit equivalencies determined by all of the above plus review of course outlines from the transferring institution and/or PLA. Candidates with an Applied Arts Diploma in Interior Design from Vancouver Island University will qualify for entry into the third year but may not be guaranteed a seat as enrolment is limited.

Start Date and Application Deadline

The program starts in September and applications are accepted between the first business day in October, and March 31.
